

DEALER LEAD DISTRIBUTION

Forecast vs. Actual Post-Launch Analysis

How did the new Airstream website affect dealer lead volume?

Pre-launch forecast · May 27, 2026 launch · 22 days of post-launch data

249,981

Historical Leads / 13-mo baseline

~19,200

Avg Leads / Month / pre-launch baseline

WEBSITE LAUNCH
May 27, 2026

POST-LAUNCH WINDOW
May 28 – June 18, 2026

BASELINE WINDOW
Mar 2025 – May 2026

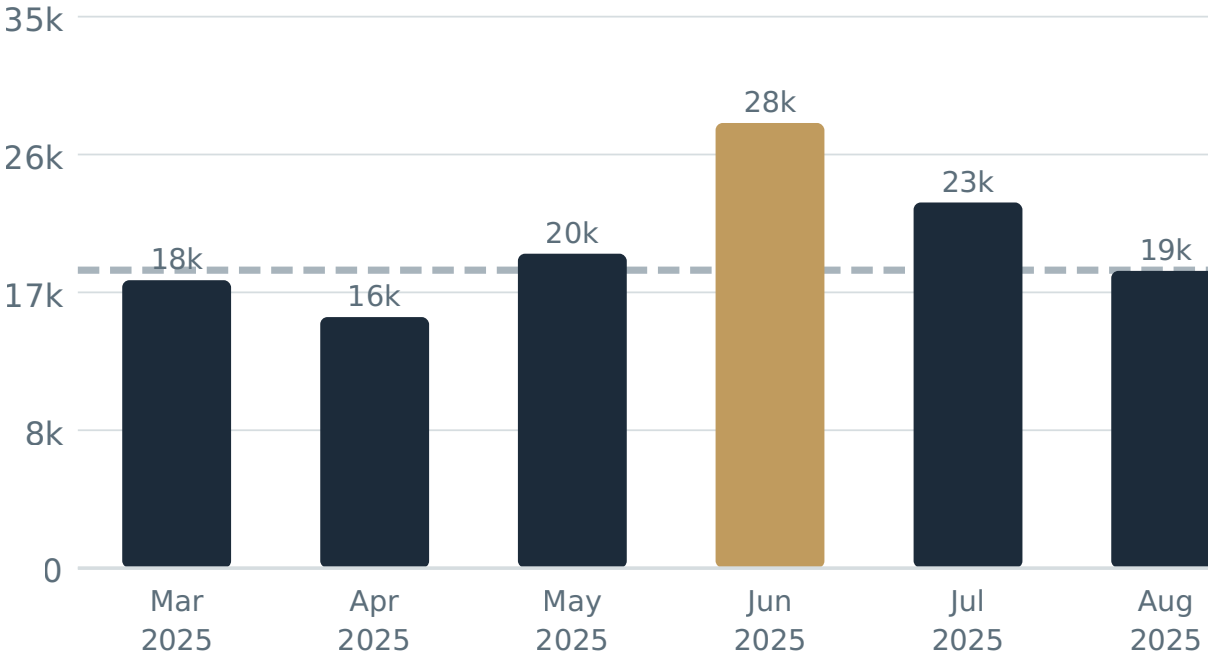

PRE-LAUNCH BASELINE

The “Before” Numbers

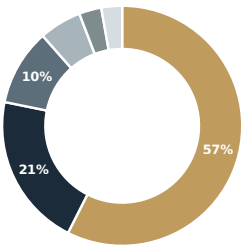

Mar 2025 – May 2026 · AIMBase data · 83 dealers

MONTHLY LEAD VOLUME — PRE-LAUNCH

Gold bar = Jun 2025 peak · Dashed line = ~19,200 baseline avg

SOURCE MIX (BASELINE)

~60% External Paid (Meta)

~40% Website-Captured

Meta leads unaffected by website change

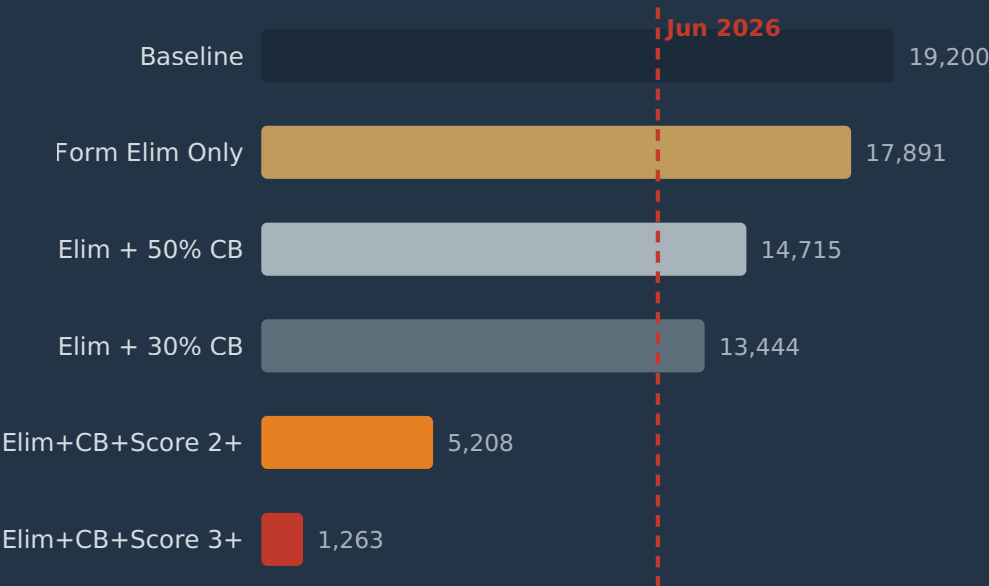

FORECAST VS. ACTUAL

Where Did June 2026 Land?

Forecasted -7% from form elimination · June 2026 running -37% vs. baseline

FORECAST SCENARIO MATRIX

Red line = June 2026 actual pace (~12,026/mo)

FORECAST VS. ACTUAL — KEY METRICS

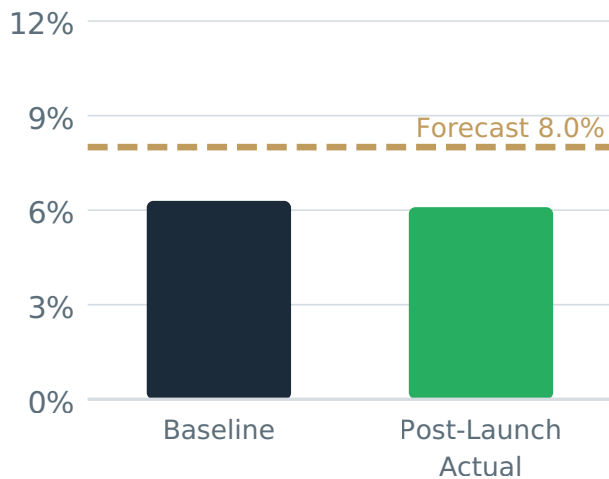

METRIC	BASELINE
Total leads / mo	~19,200
Per dealer / mo	231
External Paid share	~60%
Score 3+ rate	6.3%
Travel Trailer share	68%

QUALITY & DIAGNOSTICS

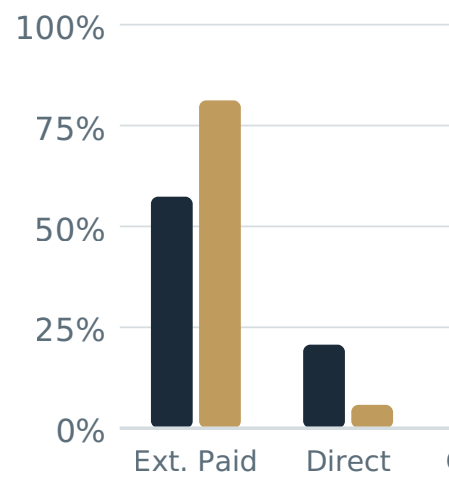

What to Watch

Post-launch is only 22 days · Run full 60–90 day window before final conclusions

SCORE 3+ RATE

SOURCE MIX SHIFT

⚠ Volume below forecast floor

June pace (~12,026/mo) is -33% vs. forecast ~17,900. Check: was a brochure checkbox added? Did consolidated form field count correctly? Did new-site top-of-funnel traffic fall?

✓ Score 3+ rate holding roughly flat

Post-launch 6.1% vs. 6.3% baseline — within noise. The “fewer but higher-quality leads” thesis is not yet disproved. Watch as volume stabilizes over 60–90 days.